Live Music. Unforgettable Events.

DENVER / LIVE ENTERTAINMENT & PRODUCTION

Resonant District is a Denver live entertainment and production company connecting artists, audiences and venues through music. Its event brands span bass and electronic nights, dance-floor favorites and hosted socials, each with a distinct identity and a shared focus on thoughtful programming and production. Resonant District Backstage brings the people behind the music into view through artist conversations and studio mix sessions. Alongside its own shows, RD offers sound, lighting and event production, plus artist development. Founded by Chris Tritz, Resonant District is building relationships across Denver's independent scene, one experience at a time.
